ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and most of all, I would like to gratefully acknowledge Almighty Father with all of my heart. It is Him who has showed His grace, mercy, strength, protection, comfort and encouragement in my life to complete my study and my thesis writing. Without Him, nothing could be accomplished.

I also want to gratefully acknowledge many people who have helped me in many ways to make my study and this thesis a reality.

My gratitude first goes to my thesis committee members for their invaluable guidance, advice and suggestion. Dr. Graeme Ritchie contributed his precious time to read through drafts and provided insightful comments, advice and guidance. Dr. Jenjit Gasigijtamong contributed her precious time, comments and correction. Dr. Jonathan H. Leather oversaw this thesis work with his academic inspiration and insightful comments.

I am grateful to many friends who have contributed their valuable assistance to my thesis writing. Apiradee Chantanaroj and her family took care of me when I had motorcycle accident and in various needs. Her fellowship, grace, patience and help in Lord Jesus Christ are precious gifts from Almighty Father to me. Our time of praying and studying Scripture together is a blessing time in my life. Erich and Luella Fickle contributed their precious time and knowledge in TESOL in proofreading and suggestions. Their fellowship and encouragement are precious and cherished. Catherine

I am grateful to many people who have contributed their valuable assistance to my study as well. My pastors who have been a living sacrifice for Lord are invaluable blessings and wonderful examples for my life. My Bible teachers who have been great examples of serving God and others bring inspiration to me. Their continuous prayers, guidance, love and care have surrounded me and encouraged me all the time.

My advisor Dr. Sarah J. Klinghammer, director of LTS Graduate Program in University of Oregon enlarged my eyesight of literature, American culture and teaching. The most popular professor among students, Dr. Surendra Subramani in College of Education, University of Oregon, open a new academic world of education to me by researching of education systems in his doctoral level class.

I also would like to express my gratitude to all my friends in China, in Thailand and in United States, schoolmates in TEFL program, in Linguistic program and in LTS program for their prayers, love, help, friendship and encouragement.

The deepest gratitude and utmost respect go to my parents. Their steadfast support, encouragement, love, understanding and prayers are invaluable and beautiful. My brother and sister's love, friendship and support always bring refreshment to me. My niece's pure love has made my life sweet.
