ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis has taken a year to complete, and I have been thankful for a lot of help from many people. Without them, it would have been impossible to finish this thesis. First of all, I profoundly appreciate Dr. Graeme Ritchie, my thesis supervisor who read every word and gave me feedback to complete this thesis. Without his direction, help and encouragement, I could not have had such a fruitful year. I also thank Dr. Jonathan Leather and Dr Jenjit Gasigijtamrong, my thesis committees for their advice.

I am grateful to Dr. Boonthong Poocharoen, the president of Payap University, for giving me the opportunity to study for my Master Degree in Teaching English as a Foreign Language Department.

My special thanks go to the teachers who sacrificed their time to help me in collecting the data. Especially, I am grateful to Tim Bennett, my friend and brother in Christ, who helped me to record the video of class observation.

My special thanks also go to Thai-TESOL for giving me an opportunity to present my work. I am thankful for Haley Edmiston, my friend and sister in Christ, for her willingness to give much time and practical help. Also my brothers and sisters at the Payap Christian Zone Church of Christ have been wonderful in supporting and encouraging me during the time of my study.

I appreciate my Dad and Mom for their support mentally and financially. I am thankful for their unfailing love and support.

Last but not least, I especially want to give thanks to God who lives within me and always gives me strength when I am weak. I can do everything through Him who gives me strength.
