ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Firstly, I would like to thank my thesis advisor, Dr. Jonathan Leather for his insightful guidance, throughout the research and writing processes. I also owe a great deal of gratitude to Dr. Pearl, Dr. Jenjit, Dr. Malee, Goy, Pop, Pawn, and Goch, all of whom were kind enough to share their time to assist in translating the research instrument. In particular, I need to give special thanks to Goch for her assistance in administering the questionnaire. Special thanks is also in order to Dr. Malee and the teachers and students of Payap University's Undergraduate English Program for sharing their time, in order to collect data.

Furthermore, I would like to express my appreciation to my other professors at Payap, Aj. Phillip Keay, Aj. David Richards, and Dr. Mary Wong, for providing a challenging and stimulating educational experience, which I feel has made a great impact on me professionally and motivationally. Finally, I need to give my deepest thanks to my wife, Chisato and the rest of my family for being so supportive and understanding during my entire time in Chiang Mai.
