

LANGUAGE MAINTENANCE IN A DISPLACED PEOPLE
GROUP: A SOCIOLINGUISTIC STUDY OF THE NEPALI
SPEECH COMMUNITY IN CHIANG MAI, THAILAND

Wendy Chamberlain

Presented to the Payap University in Partial Fulfillment of the Requirements for the Degree of
MASTER OF ARTS IN LINGUISTICS
Faculty of Arts

Payap University
January 2010

Title : Language Maintenance in a Displaced People Group: A Sociolinguistic Study of the Nepali Speech Community in Chiang Mai, Thailand

Researcher : Wendy Chamberlain

Degree : Master of Arts in Linguistics
Payap University, Chiang Mai, Thailand

Main Advisor : Asst. Professor Thomas M. Tehan, Ph.D.

Approval Date : 5 March 2010

The members of the thesis examination committee:

1. S. Savetamalya Committee Chair
(Associate Professor Saranya Savetamalya, Ph.D.)
2. Thomas M. Tehan Committee Member
(Assistant Professor Thomas M. Tehan, Ph.D.)
3. Elissa Ikeda Committee Member
(Elissa Ikeda, Ph.D.)

This thesis is accepted as partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Arts in Linguistics.

Aj. Malee Kongwannit
Aj. Malee Kongwannit
Dean of the Faculty of Arts

Copyright © Wendy Chamberlain Payap University 2010
All Rights Reserved

PAYAP UNIVERSITY

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I wish to thank my advisor, Dr. Thomas Tehan. He gave sound guidance through every step of this research project with humor, patience and wisdom. Dr. Tehan is not only an excellent professor, but a gifted advisor as well. I am thankful for my committee members, Dr. Saranya Savetamalya and Dr. Elissa Ikeda. I am lucky to have had this opportunity to learn from them. I would also like to thank Dr. Phinnarat for her Thai translation help.

I would like to express heartfelt gratitude to the many Nepali people who contributed to this research. Mr. Daniel, from Daniel Tailor, allowed numerous interviews to take place in his lovely shop, as well as giving translation help on my questionnaires. His contacts in the Nepali community are extensive, and he patiently introduced me to his family, friends and customers. I am also grateful to Mrs. Savitri, the proprietor of Spices Restaurant. She is full of warmth and laughter, and is an incredible cook. Her restaurant was the location for many interviews over authentic Nepali cuisine. I was fortunate to do research in such charming surroundings.

I wish to thank all the Nepali people who answered my questionnaires, whether in markets, tailor shops, street corners, or their own homes. Their kindness and patience with my seemingly endless questions was a tribute to their famously stoic "Gurkha" reputation. Without them, this research never would have happened.

Finally, I would like to thank my husband, Brad, my best friend and adventurer in life. I am blessed by his excellent document formatting skills! I must also thank my children, Rees and Zoe, who are eagerly waiting for their mom to get out from behind the computer. And lastly, I want to thank the Lord Jesus Christ, the author and perfecter of my faith.

Wendy Chamberlain

01/01/2010