ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I would like to thank my advisors, Dr. Eugene Casad, Dr. Tom Tehan and Acharn Douglas Inglis for their invaluable guidance and encouragement in doing this study. Thank you very much for your help and advice, for being excited about my topic, and for the many hours you spent reading and rereading my drafts. My gratitude also goes to Acharn Kirk Person who also read my thesis and gave helpful comments.

I am grateful to Dr. Ron Langacker who read my thesis and gave very helpful and thought-provoking comments. In addition, I would like to thank Dr. Duangduan Suwattee and Dr. Kingkarn Thepkanjana for their helpful suggestions.

I would also like to thank my Thai friends who have helped me with the Thai portions of this study and have given me valuable comments and information. In particular, I would like to thank Namphung for her typing help, and also Anongporn, Chaiwut, Maleewan, Pathumtip, Pranee and Romanee for all their input.

Above all these, I am very grateful to and for my husband, Chaiyun, who gave me the inspiration and idea for this topic in the first place. Thank you for your encouragement, support, practical help and suggestions, for your love and understanding.

And, thank you, Marissa and Melanie, my 10-year old twin daughters, for being very understanding with me during the period of writing my thesis. Thank you for always asking how I was progressing and for praying for my thesis every day.
