ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It gives me great pleasure to thank those who have encouraged me, inspired me, and helped me in doing this research.

I am most grateful to my dear adviser, Dr. Imelda Y. Flores, visiting professor in MA TEFL Program, Payap University, from whom I have received a vast amount of help in clarifying both my ideas and the text.

I am equally indebted to Janet Voettiner, instructor in MA Program, Payap University, for giving me invaluable advice on my research proposal during the initial stage of this research.

Great appreciation is extended to the member of my committee, Dr. Pearl Wattanakul, for her encouragement and generous contribution.

My thanks go, too, to: all respondents of this research, for sharing their valuable time in answering the questionnaires, Payap University Library and Chiangmai University Library, for their support services, my close friends, Sandy Feinzig and Adam Bovone, for providing important guidance and technical advice concerning linguistic elements of the written work.

Special thanks should be given to the United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia, United States, for its scholarship granted to me for MA studies at Payap University, Thailand, and Amity Foundation of China and Guangxi University for Nationals, for their efforts and assistance which made my graduate studies abroad possible.

The most sincere appreciation is reserved for my family, for contributing their great understanding and support throughout the period of my study in Thailand.
