ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Working on this study has been a very gratifying experience. I am, first and foremost, grateful to Dr. Pearl Wattanakul, my special project advisor, who devoted her time in providing me with great advice and encouragement throughout the study. Without her support, this study could not have been accomplished.

I would also like to express my gratitude to Dr. Imelda Flores, my special project committee member, for her wisdom and to Ms. Wanda Jennings, my other special project committee member, who instructed me writing this academic research paper.

I also thank Mr. Ken Winkler and Dr. Culver Ladd for his kindness in checking the grammar as well as Dr. Ann H. Duncan who helped to change one part of the listening material of this study.

In addition, I appreciate the English Department at Southwest Nationality Institute in China's offering of the students' English final examination scores in the second semester of 1999. And to Ms. Wangsu, who used my supplementary material project with the respondent students to combine language education with a study of students' learning styles.

Finally, I want to thank Mrs. Christian Martin who assisted me in the selection of the theme for my supplementary material project by sharing her understanding of the students' interests.
