ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis could not be accomplished without the close attention of Dr. Pearl Wattanakul, my thesis supervisor, who devoted her time to provide me invaluable advice throughout the study.

My sincere thanks are also go to Dr. Narong Prachadejsuwat, my thesis committee member, for his precious suggestion in this study. I would like to express my appreciation to Lecturer Janet Voettiner, my other thesis committee member, who edited my thesis and instructed me to write English academically.

In addition, my gratitude is extended to all English teachers and students at four commercial schools in Amphur Muang, ChiangMai, who cooperated in doing the reading comprehension test, the questionnaire, and the interview.

Furthermore, this study would not have been completed without Ms. Kobkarn Potchanachai, who dedicated her time to help me with the statistical procedures and data interpretations.

Finally, I am greatly indebted to my family without whose love and encouragement I could not have achieved my study.
