

RESUME

Name: Chaorun Zhou

Date of Birth: April 20, 1975

Place of Birth: Yunnan Province, China

Institutions Attended: 2004. M.A (in Linguistics). Payap University, Chiang Mai, Thailand. 1998. B.A (Teaching English). South-West China Normal University, Chongqing, China

Employment: 1998 – Present. English Teacher (Yuxi Teachers' College, Yuxi, Yunnan, China)

PAYAP UNIVERSITY

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I wish to sincerely acknowledge my instructors and friends who have helped to make this thesis a reality. It is a pleasure to express my great gratitude to my thesis committee members: Dr. Kirk Person, Ajarn Karen Block, and Ajarn Audra Phillips. To Dr. Kirk Person, my supervising advisor, I am very thankful for his enthusiasm to serve on my thesis committee, for his academic guidance, and his encouragement. To Ajarn Karen Block, my main advisor, I am thankful for her patient guidance and I am especially grateful for her very good suggestion on choosing my thesis topic. To Ajarn Audra Phillips, I am touched by her great generosity in providing the data, kind help in charting the texts, and sharing her knowledge of the Pwo Karen language. I would like to express my gratitude to Ajarn Marilyn German for proofreading my first draft. Thanks goes to Prang Thiengburanathum and Kitjapol Udomkool for translating the Thai abstract.

I also wish to express my thanks to the administration of Yuxi Teachers' College for its partial financial support and granting me a leave of absence to conduct my studies at Payap University. My thanks especially go to Mr. Bai Bibo, my former colleague in Yuxi Teachers' College, who recommended that I choose linguistics as my master degree program.

This thesis could not have been smoothly completed without the enormous kindness of a couple, Tatsuro (Daniel) Arisawa and Tamami Arisawa. The great help from this warm-hearted couple made me realize what true friendship and love should be. I will be always grateful for their parent-like love and concern during my stay at Chiang Mai. My thanks also goes to all my fellow students for their help and concern during the time of my study.

I, from the bottom of my heart, would like to give thanks to Ruolan Zhou, my mother, for pouring out her love and concern for me all the time. In order to support me to complete my studies from primary school to university in China, she has been working very hard in Dali, my hometown. Her hard work, patience, perseverance and love are my primary motivation to overcome the difficulties in my study and life. I am proud to have been born in a rural area in China.

I would like to, in particular, thank Qingxiu, my niece, who showed her indescribable love by taking good care of Site Zhou, my three-year-old son.

Finally, I am deeply grateful to my beloved wife, Shulan Yang, who comforted and encouraged me via her daily emails during my stay in Thailand. Our love is the source of my sense of responsibility, my confidence, and my strength.

July 24, 2004